MR. STEPHENS'S LETTER. How It Was Received by the Politicians in Washing ton-Matters at the Capitol.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution. Washington, May 24.—There was a lively demand for THE CONSTITUTION this morning among Georgians at the capitol. Nor was the desire to see it confined to this highly respect-able class. It was announced in the evenand class. It was anothred in the even-ing papers yesterday that the night before Mr. Stephens's letter had been telegraphed to THE CONSTITUTION and that it flatly contra-dicted some reports which have been floating around concerning his attitude in the guber-natorial comparies.

When the letter arrived in its original when the letter arrived in its original shape this morning copies of the paper containing it were rapidly circulated and various comments were made. Some of the enterprising correspondents who have been writing the great Georgian up as the leader of the independents felt the wind suddenly drop out of their sails.

"That's a crusher," remarked an eminent Georgian as he finished the lest sentence of That's a crusher, remarked an eminent Georgian, as he finished the last sentence of the letter. Mr. Stephens has received many warm congratulations from friends in Washington. He has for weeks past been one of the principal topics of gossip here. While his friends have understood all the time exactly how he stood, invenious efforts have been made to distort "Did he read it to you, as the dispatch to Mr. Speer came here and talked to me as I ingenious efforts have been made to distort his utterances and to give color to the silly story that he was in sympathy with the so-called new movement in Georgia. Since it is no longer possible to keep up this programme, I suppose the next thing in order will be to commence abusing him as a bourbon. In-deed, the New York Times, of to-day, applies yourself; you send nothing by my authority. This was all I knew of it until I saw his telegram in the papers. While there was nothing in it, I must say it was sent entirely without authority from me, and if I ever saw it, as Mr. Speer says, I have completely forgotten it. After his telegram appeared he asked Mr. Baldwin, my secretary, what I thought of it. I replied to Mr. Baldwin that I thought nothing of it except as a telegram from Mr. Speer as I had nothing to do with it, and had told him he could send nothing as coming from me. It was entirely his own work, and I had nothing to do with it. The only grounds he that well-worn but indefinite epithet to him.

Well, the "bourbon" looks better to-day than he has since he had his unfortunate fall. He is fast recovering, is fortunate fall. He is fast recovering, is in excellent spirits, and while he watches the progress of events in Georgia with a calm and cheerful interest he is looked upon by common consent here as the next governor of his state. His work on the history continues without interruption. The advance sheets show that it will be a handsome volume. While it has been written in an incredibly short time, considering the nature and scope of the subject, it has been formulated from materials gathered in years of study, reflec-materials gathered in years of study, reflec-tion and observation.

The labor of answering letters on the guber natorial question has been very heavy on Mr. Stephens. I hope the letter will lighten this. These appeals have come from all parts of the state; from all shades of political control of the state. litical opinion; from all classes of society. Some of them are strikingly original, expressive in a quaint way of the earnestness of their writers. The other day when he was speaking of the great number and variety of these letters I asked if any of them came from ladies. "None," was the reply. This is an evidence of the extreme aversion southern women have to touching any political question, for it is well known that Mr. Stephens is a universal favorite among them. I have no doubt they have already, in their hearts, elected him governor.

In the lone star state they are casting about for a good man to put at the head of their affairs. I hear Mr. Culberson, of the house, prominently mentioned in this connection. He is a Georgian and a cousin of A. B. Culberson, of Atlanta. He ranks high as a lawshown by the republicans yesterday in refusing to entertain the proposition subship in the chosen governor Roboters and in the case, and in to chosen governor Roboters and will oppose sent attribution to consider and will oppose sent attribution to the part of the sample of success. The Cuthbert gentleman says he has studied the subject thoroughly and is convinced that he can easily supply that county with opium and and have enough to export if he obtains the right kind of seed. The best to be had have been sent him and the result will be interesting. The ridicule lavished on LeDuc's teatheories may have had a depressing effect on the experimental spirit of the agricultural department, but it is well known that the capacity of southern soil is not yet even incapacity of southern soil is not yet even in-telligently guessed at. Tea can be raised here and a hundred other things, perhaps, which we never dream of planting. A hit on opium would be a fortune to the Cuthbert man. I hope he will make it.

It will be an up-hill business to raise the figures already set, but no harm will come of trying. He may come over from New York to give the senate committee a talk on this subject. If Senator Brown does not succeed in getting any more money we will still have by far the best showing we have ever enjoyed in a river and harbor bill. For this good fortune we must thank the united efforts of the Georgia congressmen, aided by Major Wheaton and Major Warren, of Savannah, and Colonel Bacon, of Macon. The southern representatives have learned to ask for what they want in congress. They no longer stand on the worn have learned to ask for what they want in congress. They no longer stand on the worn theories of extreme state's right and turn their backs to the treasury, but they are now in for big slices out of the general appropriations, wrapped in the good "old flag." Congress becomes more and more of a business body as the interests of the country become greater and more diversified. A man without business particulars of which were telegraphed last night, has been solved to-day. The missing bride made her appearance at the Relay depot, East St. Louis, and wanted her trunk. She is only about seventeen years old. In answer to questions she naively said that after being married one night she had become disgusted with wifehood, and took the royal road out of matrimony. She just walked away and hid herself until she saw he had gone back to Cairo. It is said she was seen on a Cairo Short Line train Friday evening in company with a young fellow, and they both got off at Lensburg. She says she is going back to Cairo, but will not live with her husband. She assigns no cause for her strange conduct. more diversified. the Churches-The $40,000 Bond Scheme In-dersed-Discussing Some of the De-fects of Modern Education.

The early part of the day was given to the publishing house interests, resulting in the adoption of the bond scheme. The report on the diaconate was referred to the next general assembly. A little breeze was stirred up by the report of the committee on Sabbath observance, many members disapproving of anything which looked to a muddying of church waters by political fish. The most important, though not the most exciting, question of the assembly was reached when Dr. Hpokins read the report of the committee on education. There seemed to be but one voice regarding the influence of Godless schools. When the message from the northern assembly was read, while its halting character was admitted and felt, the spirit of the assembly was best expressed by the remark of a brawny Texan member that "the war is over, and we, at least, must not renew it."
Through Dr. A. P. Smith, chairman, the report of the committee on publication was read. It reported the practical lifting of the debt previously existing; recommended the resumption of its publishing interests by the church, and for this nurpose suggested the ischurch, and for this purpose suggested the is-suance of $40,000 in ten year 4 per cent bonds, with optional redemption at five years. The bond proposition was put upon adoption by motion of Dr. J. S. Arbuthnott, who cited similar action of the Southern Methodist church as evidence of the feasibility of the plan. Mr. Wilcox called for small bonds, as it was probable that many of them would be returned subsequently as contribu-tions. Mr. Boggs was opposed to the church going into the brokerage business. It was a lowering of dignity and of questionable morality. Dr. Arbuthnott held that the bonds could be readily placed. Besides the real could be readily placed. Besides the real estate in Richmond offered as security, the faith of the church would be pledged to their payment at maturity. Mr. Ewing, of Ten-nessee, said he came from a state where he had bonds for breakfast, dinner and supper, and where repudiation was calling attention to a state of things which might exist in the church hereafter if this measure was adopted. The real estate security was insufficient and he was not willing that the "faith" of the Presbyterian church should be hawked about as a merchantable commodity. We must pay as we go. The bonds raised in the Methodist church were not raised for a prospective pur-pose, but to save the church from a disgrace which might be brought upon it by default, and that people to their honor met the occasion. Pay as you go. Rev. Roger Martin did not want to see Presbyterian bonds quoted in the stock warket. Mr. Gordon advocated re-

It showed church toward the various objects under its care. It provided for the discussion of the interests of foreign missions at the concerts of monthly prayer, to which many members ook exceptions, as appearing to discriminate against the home mission cause. Dr. McEl-waine said it was yet to be decided whether this was to remain a Christian country Large sections of it is dominated by the Catholics. Education.

The report on education was read by Dr. Hopkins. It narrated the great field to be filled, and the scarcity of laborers. The candidates for the ministry are decreasing, the ranks of the clergy are being depleted by death. There were last year 144 candidates for the ministry, while this year there were 114, and thus it goes. The paucity of candidates is due to the absence of religious family training. Dr. Pratt, of Louisville, said there were no Samuels and Timothies rising up to take the place of the ministers who were passing away. The fault is in the families; the subordination of Christ to the world; social distinction and wealth taking the place cial distinction and wealth taking the place of God and piety. The education of our day is worldly. We need men consecrated to God from their mother's womb. Mr. Morrow ascribed the decadence of candidates to be due to godless schools and colleges. The Bible is regarded as an insignificant book, being placed, if placed in the hands of the student at all just as the other ancient classics. Professors of colleges may be Christians but daily hours of study that is held in abeyance as the constitution of colleges forbid religious teachings as such. We are training our children without any reference to the service to God. The question went over as unfinished business until Monday. A resolution of confidence in the American Bible society was passed. Dr. Wilson, the stated clerk was excused from further attendance clerk, was excused from further attendance. The assembly then adjourned until 9 o'clock

THE CHAIRMAN OF THE DELEGATION.

Rev. William Brown, D.D., chairman of the delegation appointed to bear to the northern church the fraternal greetings of the southern assembly, was born in Rockbridge county, Virginia, in 1811, and is consequently 71 years of age. He graduated at Washington college, Lexington, and was called to the pastorate of the old Augusta church in Virginia, which relation he held for 25 years. For 20 years he was editor of the Central Presbyterian, published at Richmond. He now lives in Fredericksburg, in his native state. The significance of Dr. state. The significance Brown's appointment, which was unanimously agreed to, consists in the fact that he was the strongest opponent to fraternal relations unless preceded by proper exact disavowal in the assembly, but as soon as the disposition to do right manifested itself in the northern assembly, he became one of the strongest advocates of carrying the olive branch. The doctor has attended every session of the general assembly since 1861, save one, and since 1865 has been the perma-CAST ON A DIE Careless Officer Dismissed from the Treasury

Special Dispatch to The Constitution.

CAIRO, May 27.—This afternoon the khedive summoned the dignitaries, ulemas, deputies and other Arabic notabilities, and also the principal officers of the army, and addressed them in energetic terms on the subject of the existing political situation. He explained the object of the English and French naval expedition, and announced that he had assumed preme command of the army and was resolved to maintain strict discipline. The officers present replied in insolent language, and declared that they would never accept the ultimatum effered by England and France, nor recognize the right of interference of any power except Turkey. They taken on the pending question, and pending the consideration of such case only a motion to adjourn or take a recess (but not both in succession) shall be in order, and such motion shall not be repeated without further intervening consideration of the case for at least one hour." Mr. Reed said he would call the report at a suitable time. Mr. Randall demanded that it lie over one day. Three or four dilatory motions were submitted, pending which Mr. Calkins asked and obtained unanimous consent to submit the proposition adopted in the republican caucus last evening. Mr. Randall said the proposition was not satisfactory. Mr. Reed attempted to reply, but his remarks were rendered inaudible by cries for the regular order from the democratic side. Several roll calls followed on dilatory motions, which showed that the republicans facked two of a quorum. At one o'clock, on a motion to adjourn, the republican force fell off to 135, and a call of the house was ordered. The house then settled down to a season of perfect rest, and no attents the republican to contest the results of the proposition of the proposition of the cases of the contest was made to the proposition of the cases of the contest was made to the case of the contest was made to the case of the case of th

Tired of Congressional Life-Washington, May 27.—It is said that Rev. J. Hyat Smith, representative in congress from Brooklyn, Smith, representative in congress from Brooklyn, N. Y., proposes to retire from the house at the close of the present session. Mr. Smith is said to be tired of congressional life. His chief ambition when he arrived here on the first Monday in December was to push a bill giving Brooklyn as $1,000,000 public building through the two houses. Promising to vote with the republicans, he received the only thing he asked for—a place on the committee on public buildings. He hoped to be able in this position to materially further his plans. About the time that he had gotten the Brooklyn bill through the committee his democratic colleague, "Archie" Bliss, who is also from Brooklyn, stepped in and informed him that he was entitled to, and proposed to claim, the credit for the enactment of the Brooklyn bill introduced by himself in the last congress, if it should become a law Smith was at first disposed to fight, but, on mature deliberation, relinquished, more or less gracefully, the bill for which he had done so much. "Archie" has directed its fortunes since. Smith is uncertain as to whether, under existing circumstances, a congressional life is worth living. He is not the sensation it has been thought he would be. He is disposed to be dolefully hollow. His reported retirement, therefore, is more or less cre litable. Should he retire, it seems probable that ex-Representative Chittenden, his republican predecessor, will succeed him. N. Y., proposes to retire from the house at the close

Special Correspondence of The Constituti ALBANY, May 26 .- Between two umbrage ous oaks in the court house square, which somehow or other happened to escape the vandalic ax, laid to the root of nearly every other shade tree in the square by Dougherty's modest county commissioners last year, Mr. Jackson, the contractor, hoisted his tower and derrick yesterday, preparatory to the work of drilling the county artesian well. It is thought that this job will be completed with dispatch. The main from the town well has been conducted into the large court house cistern, so as to furnish a constant supply of water, which will obviate most of the delay incident to boring the other. Captain Hobbs said yesterday that a gentleman in town had obtained three analyses of Albany's artesian water from three different sources, and that they would be published shortly. It was stated by each one of the analyzers to be the purest water ever submitted to them for analysis. The superior court of Mitchell county will be held next week. We learn, however, that a large petition has been gotten up to induce Judge Warren to postpone the session. The farmers are unwilling to allow litigation and jury duty to interfere with their farm work. They want to make the most of the glorious seasons they are having. Mitchell, by the way, is rapidly coming to the front as the best farming county in southwest Georgia. The health of Judge Warner continues to improve, much to the gratification of his nu-

Four aspirants, we understand, have thus far announced themselves for the position. The editor of the Dawson Journal notes the fact that his "venerable friend Judge D. A. Vason," of Albany, is in town this week. As frisky a man as Judge Vason, might reasonably object to such an epithet as this, however much he might appreciate the editor's solicitude for his welfare. It is said that the county commissioners will order an election at an early day on the proposition to purchase Colonel Tift's toll bridge at the price demanded by the owner, of $30,000. Their proposed action, if taken, will undoubtedly provoke some angry controversy. Very dely provoke some angry controversy. Very few counties in Georgia could bear such a strain as this. The commissioners already have authority from the grand jury to build a bridge, which can be done at less than one third of this sum.

Pursuant to notice, the delegates representing the various Sunday-schools in the state of Georgia elation assembled at the lecture room of the Indelay morning. The edifice was early filled by the ions of the state, including many ladies, who bor the blue and white badges designating the members of the association. The assembly revealed con spicuously the prominence of young manhood and womanhood on this interesting occasion.

The association, which has for its object the promotion of the prosperity and efficiency of the Sun-day schools of Georgia, is now in the tenth year of its successful operation. It has succeeded in the ncentration of Christian effort in reference to this concentration of Christian effort in reference to this important interest of Christianity and modern clydization, and the enthusiasm manifested on this, the ninth annual convention, indicates the firm hold it has taken upon the minds and hearts of its membership. It is not sectarian in its character or scope, but opens the broad field of Christian communion of fellowship.

James L. Howard,

"Pres't Conn. S. S. Convention."

On motion Mr J C Kimball was appointed a committee of one to send a suitable reply to Sunday school association of Connecticut.

WOMAN'S TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Thompson represented the Woman's association, and in a short speech advocated the cause of temperance in Sunday-school work. The address was well received, and was followed by a re-olution, unanimously adopted, that this convention heartily and earnestly indorse the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance association, and will heartily co-operate in the same.

"What Shall the Harvest Be?" was then heartily sung.

"What shall the Harvest Be?" was then heartily sung.

The next subject of discussion was the "Progress and Prospect of the Sunday-school Work in North Georgia." by the Rev. Virgil C. Norcross, of Atlanta. The reverend gentleman, fortified by statistics of the progress made in the last decade in this section of our state, painted a glowing picture of its future. Illustrating the power of organization and the success which crowns well directed effort, heightening the picture by a coloring of future glory—the success of that effort. His speech was listened to with marked attention.

The next subject discussed was announced by the president—"The best methods of conducting a Sunday-school or class"—and Mr. J. C. Courtney, secretary of the convention and superintendent of the First Methodist church Sunday-school of Atlanta, in a lecture, unique, logical, forcible and beautiful, charmed and delighter the audience for thirty minutes. It was a blackboard illustration, interspersed with beau iful illustrations and vivid word paintings of the qualities of the successful Sunday-school teacher and superintendent.

Letters were read from his excellency, Governor Colquitt and Rev. A. S. Thomas, chairman of the executive committee, explaining that official duties have prevented their hoped-for attendance.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

This interesting portion of the proceedings was novel and well conceived, Mr. J. W. Wallace, of Augusta, a leading Sunday-school worker, undertaking the difficult questions, such as the following: What is the best method of teaching an infant class? How can we keep in our Sunday-schools the young inmarried ladies and gentlemen? Is it ever wise to place an unconverted person in charge of a Sunday-school class? What is the best plan for opening, carrying on and closing "unday-schools? How shall we arrange to have our children at Sunday-school and church services on Sabbath without wearying them? How shall I get the parents into the Sunday-schools? Shall we invite the world to help us in our work? What is a Sunday-school?

These, and similar questions regarding the work suggested by the occasion, are collected from the antewning arrived, the convention adjourned.

R B. Reppard, of Savannah, the president-elect of the state association, conducted the services and managed the whole affair with such consummate tact, and infused into it such a general happy spirit as to ensure success and win at first the love and confidence of every delegate present.

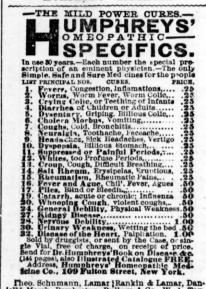

On Friday morning at 9 o'clock, by the generous courtesy of the Savannah committee, the entire delegation embarked upon the steamer St. Nicholas and enjoyed a most delightful sail down past Tybee to the outer sea buoy, returning in time for dinner and rest sefore leaving for home. The president stated that the object was to give renewed expressions of our warm appreciation of the courtesies shown us, when Mr J C Kimball offered a series of resolutions expressing the warmest thanks to the people of Savannah, to the several committees, and especially to the president-elect, R B Reppard, to whom the delegation were so deeply indebted, and pledging him their warmest affections and most hearty support during his administration. Mr. Kimball, in a few earnest words, moved the adoption of the resolution. This was seconded by J C Courtney in a speech of soul-stiring words. He was followed by Hon M A Candler when the resolution was passed with three cheers for the new president who was called upon and responded with deep feeling. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is Brown's Iron BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why Brown's IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, malaria, intermittent fevers, &c.

203 S. Paca St., Baltimore. Nov. 28, 1881. I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing and was growing weaker every day. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite, and am getting stronger.

Jos. McCawley.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Don't be imposed on with imitations.

The Press and People Acknowledge The Christian Index to be the Best Adver-tising medium in the South. ESTABLISHED 1821.

Price, $2.60 Per Annum. It has been established for more than half a century.

It represents a constituency of near two hundred thousand, a majority of whom read it. Its subscribers, as a rule, are responsible

Its subscribers, as a rule, are responsible citizens.

Thousands of the best people of the South read no other paper, and can, therefore, be reached only by this.

Its high morni character gives it an influence not poscessed of claimed by the secular press.

As a rule, the prudent business man will awail himself of the best medium at his command to bring his business to the attention of those who constitute the worth and wealth of a community. The Chinstian Index, published at Atlanta—the Gate City of the South, and the Capital of Georgia—is read more generally in the cities, in the villages, and in the country, by people of every pursuit, than perhaps any other paper in the South.

The above considerations render this paper an unsurpassed advertising medium for the Southern States, and, certainly, very strongly commend it to the favor and patronage of all practical business men who desire to enjoy a liberal Southern Trade.

FRIERSON & LEAK AUCTIONEERS.

LAWSHE GARDEN-6 SPLENDID JACKSON street lots at auction next Tuesday, May 30, at 3 o'clock. We will sell on the premises at the above time six superb lots, fronting (as per plat) on the west side of Jackson street, and embracing all of the beautiful ground known as the Lawshe garden and orchard, bounded by Jackson, Houston and Irwin streets. Every lot is a gem, both as to natural beauty and as to location and surroundings. The property is bounded by three broad, prominent and beautiful thoroughfares, each lot fronting east on Jackson street, th beautiful, broad avenue that is fast growing in general favor, and will soon be one of the most fashionable and popular residence streets of Atlanta. The situation is exceedingly desirable for homes, being clevated and commanding, healthy and pleasant. Horse cars run immediately in front of every lot, which adds much to their value and convenience, though the distance is only a pleasant walk from the centre of the city. A number of handsome residences are to be built around and near this property this summer, and the neighborhood promises to be one of the most select in the city. The lots are beauties, and all who expect to own a first-class home on Jackson street should embrace this opportunity to secure at least one of these fine lots. There is a splendid variety of choice fruits on the ground, consisting of peaches, apples, plums, pears, cherries, figs, English blackberries, raspberries, grapes, a large asparagus bed, and a brick hot-house. Examine the property carefully, attend the sale, and secure one of the best homes on one of the best streets in Atlanta. Titles all right Terms—ene-half cash; remainder 6 and 12 months at 8 per cent. Special cars for accommodation of all who wish to attend the sale will start from Kimball house at 3 o'clock sharp. Remember the time and be on hand. Free ride. PEACHTREE STREET LOT—A BEAUTIFUL residence site just beyond the intersection of Cedar street, at auction Wednesday, May 31st, at 5 o'clock on the premises. This lot is a gem. It is very large; it is very central; is on horse car line; it is a short walk from center of the city; sidewalks to it are nicely paved and dry; it is in a first-class neighborhood; it is surrounded by elegant residences; it is one of the best shaded and prettiest stretches of Peachtree street; it is on the west side, and has an east front; it has fine shade trees in front; it has large shade trees on it: it has choice truit trees on it: it has a large, fertile garden spot; it is one of the most central, desirable and valuable lots left on Feachtree street; it is one of the most pleasant situations for a home in the city; it is on Peachtree street, the pride of Atlanta; It is the best and maybe the last chance to secure such a large, central and desirable vacant lot on Atlanta's beautiful avenue of wealth and fashion. All who aspire to a home on Peachtree street, will do well to give this fine large lot a prompt and careful examination. Titles all right. Terms cash. Special cars will leave the National hotel at 5 o'clock sharp, next Wednesday, for the sale. Fare free for all. Remember the time and be on hand. Auction card on the lot. N INE LOTS AND TWO HOUSES.—WE WILL sell on the ground Tuesday, June 6th, at 3 o'clock? in the choice vacant lots and two small houses, fronting (as per pat) on Larkin street and Green's Ferry avenue, just east of and adjoining Latham's brick yard. The lots lay well, and are well located for homes or investments. A nealthy reaction is just taking place in that section of the city, the demand for property is increasing greatly, and prices advancing very fast. This is the time and place to invest your money to get it back quick and prices advancing very tast. This is the time and place to invest your money to get it back quick with a handsome profit. There is a good future awaiting all that portion of the city, which has been kept down by the barracks, and the time is not distant when this and all adjacent property will enhance greatly in value. It is a splendid location for renting houses and getting a large interest on the amount invested. There is a good demand by good tenants for houses in the vicinity. Parties wanting good, convenient, yet inexpensive homes, or small but profitable investments, can find no better property than this, and should give it prompt attention. Titles all right. Terms—1/2 cash, balance 3 and 6 months at 8 per cent. Remember the time, and take the 3 o'clock Peters street car at Whitehall crossing. Free ride for all. treet car at Whitehall crossing. JACKSON STREET PROPERTY—SIX ROOM house and lot; one vacant lot, at auction, Tuesday, May 30th, at 30 clock. We will sell on the premises, Tuesday, May 30th, immediately after the Lawshe Garden sale, the 6-room dwelling, No. 58 Jackson street, on a lot 50x162 feet, with alley in rear: also, the vacant lot, 50x162 feet, with of and adjoining the house and lot, with alley in rear. This property is on the southwest corner of Jackson and East Harris streets, fronting east on the west side of Jackson street, with horse car line in front. The house contains six rooms, hall, front and side verandahs, closets and pantry; is well built, sound, substantial and very comfortable. There is a well of splendid water and a number of fine shade trees on the lot, which add much to the comfort and value of the property as a home. The lot lays nicely, and drains from front to rear. The corner lot is very desirable for a home or investment, being on the corner of two main and prominent thoroughfares, with double front, alley in rear, and street cars in front. The situation is elevated, commanding, healthy, pleasant, quiet, convenient and exceedingly desirable for residences, and will, like all such property on Jackson street, enhance greatly in value, as that new, broad, beautiful and popular residence avenue is destined to become one of the most fashionable and attractive enhance greatly in value, as that new, broad, beau-tiful and popular residence avenue is destined to become one of the most fashionable and attractive streets in Atlanta. Don't fail to examine the prop-erty beforehand and attend the sale. Titles all right. Terms—One-half cash; balance in six and twelve months, at 8 per cent interest. FRIERSON & LEAK, AUCTIONEERS.

1 HOUSES AND LOTS AT AUCTION—ON Larkin, Lawshe, Roach, Kennesaw and Latham streets. We will sell on the premises, Tuesday, June 6th, at 3 o'clock, twenty-one houses and lots fronting as per plat, on Larkin Lawshe, Roach, Kennesaw and Latham streets. The houses are all good—many of them just completed, and all occupied by good, prompt-paying tenants. The property is but a short distance northeast of James Town, (formerly the Barracks) which has been converted into first-class residence property. The removal of the Barracks has had a very beneficial effect on this property, and all that section of the city, and parties who buy now, just at the beginning of the he-lithy advance, will get the full benefit of it; and this property is located just right to get the fullest benefit of that advance, because it is between the Barracks and the new reilroad and depot now being located near by; is only two clocks from street cars, is near schools, churches and stores; is convenient to the business and manufacturing sections of the city; is in a healthy, quiet and pleasant situation for good, cheap homes, and one of the best locations in Atlanta for renting houses. There is a great demand in the vicinity for houses, but none to be had, and every new house is rented before completed. Small houses and lots pay a larger interest than any property in Atlanta, and beats stocks and bonds, or any other securities that can be bought. Money is the prime inducement in nearly all investments, and the way to make it fast is to buy this property. It will beat anything you can put your money in, because it will pay for itself in a few years, and then be worth a great deal more—possibly double first cost. Parties wanting good, comfortable, convenient homes, in a good part of the city, should save their money, attend this sale, buy a home for their families and be contented. Titles all right. Terms, one-third cash, balance 3 and 6 months at 8 percent. Succeial cars and wagons will start from the Centennial Bui FRIERSON & LEAK, AUCTIONEERS.

CENTRAL HOUSE AND LOT, NO. 64 WEST.
Peters street, at auction. We will sell on the premises Wednesday, June 7th, at 50 clock, the central 5-room cottage No. 64 West Peters street, on a choice, level lot, fronting on the south side of the street. The house is well built, comfortable, in good condition, and is a very pleasant home. The lot is level and pretty. The location is very central and convenient, being near the center of the city, where it is convenient to business, churches, schools and depot. Horse cars run immediately in front of the house, but the location is so central that they are of little or no advantage to the property. All who want a very central home, close to business, should not neglect this opportunity to secure this convenient and valuable as a residence property, but it is also a good business stand, being on one of the main thoroughfares, near the new depot to be built at the crossing a few steps beyond, right at the big compress and warchouse and many other establishments that employ a large number of hands. It offers are inducements as a permanent investment or speculation, because it is situated where it is obliged to enhance in value. Don't fail to examine the property and attend the sale. Remember that lots vo central as this are scarce and where it is obliged to enhance in value. Don't fall to examine the property and attend the sale. Remember that lots so central as this are scarce and hard to buy. Titles all right. Terms one-third cash, balance four and eight months, at eight per cent interest. DAVIS STREET STREET RESIDENCES AT Auction. We will sell on the premises, Thursday, June 8th, two desirable four-room dwellings, Nos. 124 and 132 Davis street, on fine lots, 50x190 each, fronting on the west side of Davis street between Rhodes and Magazine streets. No. 132 is a nice, new, neat and well inished cottage of four rooms, hall, closets, pantry, front and rear verandabs, all painted, plastered and attractive in style. No. 124 is a comfortable four-room house, painted and plastered. The lots are both level and nice, the water is excellent, the neighborhood is good, the location quiet, healthy, pleasant, and convenient for residences, being only three blocks from Marietta street and the W & A R R, along which nearly all the large manuncturing establishments of the city are located, which add much to the value of this property both as homes and as investments. The location insures good temants, large interest on the investment and future enhancement in value of this desirable property. Seekers of good homes or profitable investments should examine these places carefully and attend the sale; titles all right; terms ½ cash, balance 3 and 6 months at 8 per cent. THE STAR LOTS OF EDGEWOOD AND THE handsome residence site on the Ga R at auction. We will sell on the ground very soon that superb eminence fronting on the north side of the Decatur road and the Ga R R, between the residences of Judge Hopkins and R M Clarke. This manificent building site, a perfect gem of satural beauty has been more admired than any spot within miles of Atlanta, and is worthy of all the admiration bestowed upon it, for it is without exception the grandest site in the vicinity of the city for an elegant suburban home. In a few days we will have printed plats distributed, giving size of the splendid middle lot, embracing the main eminence, and elso the beautiful lots adjoining on either side, together with a full description of the property and its aumerous advantages as homes. Time of sale, mode of conveyance, &c, will be given on plats, which will be ready by Wednesday next. Parties interested, and desirous of owning the beauty of beauties in the way of a suburban home near Atlanta, will do well to give this property immediate attention. hand office safe about 48 inchas high. 1284

At AUCTION—THE HULBERT HILL—14
A choice lots. Wednesday, June 7, 18-2. This magnificent block has been sub-divided into 14 beautiful building lots, which is universally conceded to be the most desirable residence property now on the market. It overlooks the entire city and surrounding country, commanding a gorgeous view of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Nature has left nothing undone in preparing these lots for the erection of buildings. It is within one block of the street car line, fronting Houston street, Johnson avenue and the Boulevard, the most popular drive in the city. The air is pure and the water unexcelled There, is a splendid 6 room dwelling on lot No 2, built by the former owner of the property for his own home. A splendid two-storybarn, carriage house and stable. Also servant's house. A large sum of money has been spent in beautifying these grounds, and is well set out with ornamental trees and shrubbery, fruit trees, grape vines, etc. No mistake has been made in the subdivision of this property as to size of lots. They are laid off with a view of affording purchasers enough room, and upon any of them may be erected a home upon which home comforts may be enjoyed. Be sure to go and see the lots before the day of sale. Walk over them and catch the inspiration which the landscape view will certainly inspire. Nothing like it has been offered and will not be, because it is not to be found in the city. Superadded to these attractions there is a growing sentiment in favor of the erection of the eapitol of the state on the boulevard. If this be done these lots will, in the opinion of the best judges, double in value so soon as the capitol is located. Call at our office and get a plat. Be on hand at 3 of clock p.m. sharp, on Wednesday, June 7th, in front of the Kimbail house, to take street cars. Free ride. Perfect titles. Terms, half cash, balance 6 months, 8 per cent interest. Don't overlook your interest. Hendrix & McBurney, real estate agents, 31 Broad street.

MATTINGS—FLOOR MATS; 1,000 YARDS matting and mats, fancy, checks and whites. Consigners have given positive instructions to close out regardless of price, on Wednesday, May 31st, 10 o'ciock, at 30 Peachtree street. W C Morris & Co, Auctioneers.

on Jackson street, Monday. June 5, 1882, 4t 4 p. m. These lots front on Jackson street, immediately in front of the Stovall property and are very fine residence lots, each one large and lying beautifully, giving a grand view of the city and surrounding country. On one lot is a fair three room house, the others all vacant. Call at our office and get a plat and examine property. Immediately after selling these lots we will sell 24 lots on corner of Blackman and Bromby streets.
lon't forget the time: take 30'clock street car at

THE MILLS PROPERTY, FACTORY SITES and warehouse property at auction on Wednesday, the 15th of June, at 5 o'clock, in the shade of the evening, five elegant lots, fronting on Marietta street and running back 150 feet to the railroad right-of-way. No elaborate description of this property is necessary. Every business man knows what desirable property is, and if this is not, then there is none for warehouses or factories, being near in and so situated as to be easy of access by railroad or street, on line of four railroads, and fronting on Marietta street, renders them superior to any thing to be had. Call at our office and get a plat and attend the sale. Hendrix & McBurney. may28-1266

H ENDRIX & McBURNEY—AT AUCTION, MONday, June 5th, 1882, at 3:30 o'clock, a fiveroom house and large lot on East Harris street, on a high hill overlooking the city, and near the Jackson street car line, and 13 vacant lots adjoining, all known as the Dr. Brown property. The vacant lots are on Fast Baker street, and are so subdivided as to be attractive and desirable. Each one will make a comfortable home for persons of moderate means or be capital property for investments. Call and get a plat and examine the property before day of sale. Free ride on 3 p. m. Gate City street car line.

WALTON STREET RESIDENCE, AT AUCTION, tesday, June 13th. 5 pm, Goode & Smith, real estate agents—We invite the attention and attendance of capitalists and persons seeking a home to this fine property, No 99 Walton street, to be sold at auction, on the premises, June 13th, at 5 pm, formerly the Winship now the Candler residence, and owner offers it for sale because he wishes to remove to Edgewood, where he has just purchased a home. It is very near Peachtree and Marietta streets, and quite close enough to command a high rent for boarding purposes or for a convenient home. The It is very near Peachtree and Marietta streets, and quite close enough to command a high rent for boarding purposes or for a convenient home. The dwelling has six very large rooms, a Lall up and down stairs, front and back verandah, closets, bath room and water closet, with water in the house and in the front and back yards; garden and lot. The lot is 34 feet on Walton by about 200 feet on Bartow street, high, rolling and well drained, being quite large enough for another residence on Bartow street, which being so near in will always command a fine rent. The neighborhood eannot be excelled; the water's cool and pure and abundant; there is a good servant's room and kitchen attached to the dwelling, and new crib, barn, stables and carriage house on the premises. Its central locality and its surroundings give it a certain steady value as a home or an investment, and it will be far better than banks, and bonds and sto-ks as a safe lodgement for capital. Terms—one-half cash; balance in 6 and 12 months, with 8 per cent interest. Titles perfect. Being first-class property, many bidders are expected at the sale. Goode & Smith, Real Estate Agents.

W E WILL SELL ON THE PREMISES, ON FRIday, June 2d, 1882, at 3:30 o'clock sharp, six nice, neat three-room houses and one two-room house on Werners avenue, between Jones and Rawson streets, and two three-room houses on Kelly street between Rawson and Clarke streets. This is a rare chance on the terms below given for men of limited means and those who are working for wages, to get a good, ucat little home well located and only three blocks from street car lines, in a good neighborhood, only one block from the Fair street school, and in full view of the Grant Park. This part of the city is now improving more rapidly than any other. There are now ten to fifteen new cottages going up in a radius of one block of this property. With all these advantages, and the very liberal terms we offer, every cierk, mechanic and merchant who has a few hundred dollars to spare would do well to attend the sale and buy some or all of this property; and to capitalists we would say, you cannot find any good property that will pay you a better interest on your investment. Remember, some one is going to get a bargain, and those who fail to attend the sale will regret not having done so. Call at our office, get plats and attend the sale. Free ride on Decauts street cars. Take cars from corner Decaut and Peachtree streets. Terms—on six Werner street houses, one-third cash, balance quarterly payments of $100, with 8 per cent interest. Terms on the others will be given at time of sale. Ives & Krouse, real estate agents, 20 Peachtree street.

THE signal service bureau report indicate to-day, for the south Atlantic and gulf states fair weather easterly veering to southerly winds, stationary or lower temperature.

BUSINESS is suspended in many of the northern exchanges until Wednesday morning. because Sunday is a day of rest, Monday is Whit-Monday and Tuesday is decoration day.

An infallible sign that trade is reviving and that the absurd small-pox scare has nearly died out is seen on reference to our advertis ng columns, which are heavier than they ever have been so near summer time. The "people's clearing house" is very busy.

Those who think that congress will adjourn next month forget that only four of the four teen regular appropriation bills have gone to the president. Four of the number have never been reported, and these require more time than any other four of the series. Congress will be in session well towards August. and some think that the wrangling and crosspulling and log-rolling will be carried into the hottest month of the year.

THE great case of Turnbull and Loubat; who stirred up the old hens of clubdom and the New York papers over their quarrel, has been settled. As was natural it has ended of tenants on their in an asinine way. The club has expelled paying their arrears of rent Loubat, who was a man of some consequence, a life member and all that, although he did part by arbitary enactment. Mr. Parnell a blackguardly thing. Turnbull, who is quite as blameable, was let off with a simple censure. This is a a fine sample of the way things are done in the metropolis.

THERE are few families in the state which are not affected by Sunday school work. Of late years it has been greatly improved in character with correspondingly good results. Organization has effected much in helping the work of the schools, and incidentally it strikes a journalist as a good sign that their organ, the Sunday-School Times, is one of the best class papers in the country. Such meetings as that at Savannah, an account of which is elsewhere reprinted, can only be of great profit and help.

YESTERDAY was the sixth day of the Dibble Mackey contest in the house of representatives. The democrats can prolong the deadlock indefinitely, but it is very doubtful whether they will in the end accomplish much. The republicans are determined to The tenants therefore receive a free gift of merits of the case or of the charge made by first and last 585,000, representing in round Mr. Dibble that Mackey has mutilated the record and forged one to suit his own case. refusal of the republicans to first investigate the charge of forgery.

"I NEVER did" are the words of Mr. Stephens's answer to our correspondent's query, if he authorized Mr. Speer to send his telegram to]the independents; moreover, h adds that he distinctly told Mr. Speer, "You send nothing by my authority." We have already referred to Mr. Speer's words as "insidious," at which Dr. Felton takes umbrage. They were more. According to Mr. Stephens they were false in words and in spirit. It is indeed difficult to restrain the indignation which is barely veiled in Mr. Stephens's words. He was misrepresented throughout the whole country-the Nebraska papers are even now prophesying an independent victory under Mr. Stephens's leadership, taking Mr. Speer's telegram to be true. It is a pity to have to undeceive all the papers of the country on this point. This THE CONSTITU TION has done. It is likely that Mr. Stephens's words will now undeceive even Mr. Speer himself.

THE WEEK ACROSS THE WATER.

Just when the Crivoscians had yielded and all Europe thought the eastern question was to pass out of sight for at least a brief time the Egyptians rise up contrary to indication: at the close of the previous week, to assert their longings for freedom and a written con stitution-for relief alike against the claims of the porte as suzerain and the intervention of England and France in her internal and especially monetary affairs. Arabi Bey, at the committee to which the message was conof the nationalist movement. The Egyptians are in truth waking up, and in their ambition o achieve something they easily, if not naturally, become adherents to a movement that proposes to hand over Egypt to the Egyptians. The situation at this writing is critical. The ministry has resigned; England and France demand the sending of Arabi Bey into exile as a condition precedent to the sup port of the khedive against the demands of the nationalists, and Arabi Bey himself, sup ported by the notables, the army and the people, proposes to fight in preference to longer submission to foreign domination. This brings the eastern question to the front again. If England and France undertake to settle the matter by force, Austria, Germany, Russia, Italy, Turkey and Greece will each take a hand, and all the dangers and possibilities of a Balkan rising will confront Europe again. The entire business has a very warlike look. Arabi Bey will loubtless, in case of conflict, arouse all the eligious and race prejudices of not only the Egyptians, but of all the other people in North Africa. The Mohammedans of North Africa are ready to a man to give France a drubbing, no matter what side the sultan takes. Next to Egypt the internal affairs of Russia have attracted the most attention during the past week. The people of Russia are in a condition of unrest. They want change, relief, even revolution. The coronation of the Car was to have taken place at Moscow on September 6, and great preparations had been year. The coronation festivities were to last several weeks, and the gorgeous ceremony was the talk of the world. It is indefinitely postponed because evidence came to hand in some form, or perhaps in various forms, that official participants. Great suffering has resulted and out that fact will not restore peace and power the czar and his lieutenants.

During the week the Irish question ha not been materially changed. The arrears of rent bill has passed to a second reading, and get reconciliation and reunion if they fail to Mr. Gladstone has given notice of his intenion to give both the repression and the arrears bill precedence over other business. Both will be adopted very nearly as they came from the hands of the government Mr. Parnell and the conservative portion of the land league express themselves as satisfied with the arrears bill, which is really one of the most important acts of the age. It proposes in brief to put hundreds of thousands feet part out of the public purse and in very properly accepts this remarkable conces ion, but the more violent Irish leaders ar not satisfied with it. Mr. Davitt, at Manchester declared that landlordism must go before agrarian crime could be abolished in Ireland, and Mr. Dillon, who speaks for Limerick in parliament, was equally violent The latter indorsed extreme measures, ever that of assassination under certain circum stances. These men pander to the revolutionary spirit, and are perhaps bidding for the place that Mr. Parnell has held in the hearts of the Irish people. Let us hope that Mr. Parnell will be able to maintain his power He is an ardent advocate of the arrears bill. and well he may be. SOUTH. It is with the deepest regret, that we confess the northern Presbyterians have not met the manly and Christian message of the southern assembly in the proper spirit. The report of the head of the army, stands also at the head | fided is all that could be expected. It meets the occasion fairly and responds to the fraternal feeling that is behind the letter of the message. While the committee was out deliberating, however, a few intolerants captured the assembly and committed it to a imitation of the return message that takes out all its grace and courtesy, and makes complete harmony impossible.

It will be noted that the report of the com mittee of the northern assembly began with these words: While receding from no principle, we cheerfully withdraw," etc. Then why was it necessary for the assembly to pass, in the face of this saving clause, an amendment that reflects upon the integrity of every southern man who took part in the late war, and blackens the memory of every southern soldier who sleeps on the field of battle. The southern assembly said in the fullest and frankest spirit that they were willing to forget and forgive the past, and withdraw every offensive remark they had made. This was surely enough between two wings of the same church-between Christians dealing with Christian duty. There was no political question at issue-no political principle at stake. It was simply a matter of peace and forgive ness and fraternity-a lesson that was taught

The Jews may have to go, go no further. To do so would be to forfeit their own self-respect and their power for good in their own church. We should like to ask these few bigots of the orthern church where and when they will make it now? When they have walked down the valley of death, and through the portals of the grave, have entered the other and better world, will they still refuse to fraternize with their southern brethren until it is reaffirme and admitted that they were rebels and traitors? Will they spring political questions and hold aloof till it is settled, in the very shadow of the throne upon which sits that Saviour who silenced all challenge of the Magdalen that knelt at his feet, and who taught the lesson of unreserved fraternity on the cross? In all reverence, when these bigots meet in that land of peace, a Presbyterian soldier whose whole heart b longed to God, and who fought in the light of His word, who never led his troops to battle without praying humbly that God might bless his cause, and who, right or wrong, had his prayers so answered that he never lost a battle-when they meet this leader of the southern hosts, who at last sanctified with his life-blood the integrity of his purpose, will these men refuse to frater ze with him, until they have reasserted an he has confessed that the boys who died with him were traitors, and the cause they fought for was a wicked and unholy one? The issue between the two sections of this country was settled practically by the sword. The work of the sword has been supplemented by the law. The result is fixed irrevocably matter, the people of each side thought they were right. Their intentions were patriotiand their motives were pure. The heroism of the struggle attests that it was a brave peo fessed to be mischievous and wicked to revive these issues in political discussions. How much more mischievous when the church such unworthy strife. The southern assembly has done its duty, its full duty, and its whole duty. It must now await the time when the northern assembly has done as much. Pending that time it has the confidence of its people and the thanks of patriots everywhere.

Since the above was in type we learn that the northern assembly has sent a message declaring that the resolution of the convention touching rebellion and disloyalty did no modify the report of the committee which had been adopted with hearty enthusiasm This clears the situation considerably, and i the northern assembly stands on its commit tee's report, there is every chance of perfect and permanent reunion. God speed the day COLONEL LAMAR, of the Macon Telegraph, says the horse editor of THE CONSTITUTION does not often have full swing." Be this as it may, there is no sort of doubt that the jackass editor of the Tele graph does have the very fullest swing. The esteemed Macon Telegraph says it has no candidate for governor. Then our contemporary should hustle around and get one. In the hurly burly of these latter days no journal can be called truly great and good that hasn't a candidate for governor. At present we are for Mr. Stephens. Should the convention nominate some other man, then we are for the convention's candidate. Could anything be wiser than this?

COLONEL LAMAR thinks it is cruel to drag an old nan like Mr. Stephens into a "bitter political contest" Don't fret, colonel, it won't be bitter, and it will hardly be a contest. It will be so unanimous for Stephens that you can't hear yoursel

COLONEL LAMAR says that the democratic party is verwhelmingly against Mr. Stephens. We shal file this statement and produce it for verification on the 19th of July. To give the Colonel a chance to test the coolness of our head and the steadiness of our hand, we predict that Mr. Stephens will be nomigated overwhelmingly on the first ballot on July 19th. Would the Colonel mind pasting this in his hat, and wearing it near to his inflamed brow until the fatal day arrives?

If those who oppose Mr. Stephens are really in earnest, they should immediately begin to show why he would not make the people of Georgia a good governor, and wherein another man would make a better. This is the only way to defeat Mr. Stephens.

THE esteemed Macon Telegraph appears to be an gry because THE CONSTITUTION and Mr. Stephens ave tolled Colonel Thornton into the ranks of the rganized democracy. The attitude of our esmed contemporary is exceedingly unwrong. The democratic party is never too large to despise recruits. As humble Jeffersonian democrats we shall continue our missionary work.

THE Evening Herald will appear on Monday afternoon at four o'clock. By a mistake we anounced on yesterday that it was due Saturday afternoon. Messrs. Small and Williams, who will have editorial and business control of the paper, are accomplished journalists and will unquestionably give Atlanta one of the brightest evening papers it has ever had. We are informed that the success of the canvasser for the new paper is something unprecedented and that more than en ents to occupy its available space for the first week have already been secured. It is said that it starts off with a fine subscription list, and we have no doubt will score a success.

GUITEAU is losing flesh, but the republican fac tion which his crime placed in power is fattening at the public swill-tub.

THE esteemed Albany News and Advertiser appears to be opposed to the nomination of Mr. Stephens for governor, and is endeavoring to defeat him by declaring that THE CONSTITUTION has flopped. We suggest to our esteemed contemporary that this sort of thing is not at all calculated to defeat Mr. Stephens for the nomination. The great majority of the people of Georgia are flopping along with THE CONSTITUTION.

CURRENT COMMENT.

And His Correspondence is Inter New York Tribune.

The Hon. Alexander H. Stephens is now able to ecupy his rolling chair and attend to correspond oul was truly marvelous.

Referred to Dr. Felton. Gainesville Eagle.

Would it not be a good idea for the mass meeting No New Development, But a Prospect for a Good of nine to reassemble and "bring out anothe A Masterly View of Dr. Felton An old Wilkes nigger expresses it clearly: "Mars Felton is boun' to hold on, even ef he has got to grab tail holt."

Middle Georgia Times. Mr. Stephens' letter, published in to-day's Times is certainly democratic enough to satisfy every rea onable man of his democracy. In our opinion, he is the man for governor, and we place his name a the masthe d of the Times as our choice for tha position, subject to the democratic nomination.

A True Statesman.

As we have said all the while. Mr. Stephens ha had no idea of running for governor on any other ticket than that of the regular organized democratic ticket than that of the regular organized democratic party, and yet he is willing for any outsiders to vote for him that wish to. Our respect and confidence in Mr. Stephens grows stronger every day. He may truly be termed a statesman, and does not class all who oppose his views or principles as evil. The time has come for more tolerance upon the part of political parties, and Mr. Stephens leads the van in this progressive movement. When elected he will be governor of the state and not of his party alone.

Mr. Stephens's letter of the 22d, is just such a let er as ought to be satisfactory to every reasonable emocrat. Satisfying us fully that he is in accord with the organized democratic party of the country we are of opinion that he will, as he ought to, re is now, in our judgment, a foregone conclusion.
We are an organized democrat of the straightest ect, and shall hail Mr. Stephens's nomination with Americus is Glad, Too.

We are glad that he has written this letter, and dad that he says in it what he does, for we did no want him to rest under the suspicion that in his old want him to rest under the suspicion that in his old age he had deserted the democratic party—the party which has done so much for him, and for which he has done so much. It was aggravating to see the independents claiming him as their representative and not being able to dispute it; and we are glad that he has taken occasion to place himself fairly and squarely upon the democratic platform. The letter has placed him in a better attitude before the people of Georgia, and while he may not be nominated for governor by the democratic convention, there is much more likelihood of such a nomination than there was a few weeks ago.

Another Proof of Georgia's Wisdom.

J. R. Randall's Washington Letter. The Georgia delegation are satisfied and please with the commoner's utterance. The people of Georgia will, no doubt, be equally content. The mpression here is that he will be nominated by acclamation and elected without opposition, if no nforeseen contingencies occur to prevent his run-ng at all. He takes a wide departure from the rill, unless all signs fail, become the next govern-r. He has the proud assurance that no democratic overnor of any state can claim to be so unani-lously the chief magistrate of the whole people.

He Now Works Harder than a Governor.

Objection has been made that Mr. Stephens's fee ble state of health will incapacitate him for the efficient discharge of the duties of the executive office. To this we deem it a sufficient reply to say that the work in which Mr. Stevhens has lately been engaged is fully as great as that which claims the personal attention of a governor. He is, indeed, a hard working man, and always has been, feeble as he is physically. With many men constituted as he is, work is life: inaction is a lack of the stimulus that keeps them slive. We do not think that we run any risk in saying that Mr. Stephens would be one of the most vigifant chief executives, one of the most rigid and best informed supervisors of the interests of the whole state, that Georgia has had for many years. The preservation of an untarnished reputation as a faithful public servant would be an object dear to him, and the record he would leave behind as an executive would in no manner detract from that which he has made as a legislator. efficient discharge of the duties of the executive

THE NEWS FROM SENATOR HILL. A telegram received last night states that Mr Hill's condition is unchanged. It appears to be ettled that our senator has improved in strength to the surprise of those who know his case best-until he is now stronger than at any time since the last operation. The future depends upon, 1st, whether or not the last trace of cancer is removed; 2d, whether the water will cure him even if the taint is still there. He has strength enough to take both

MR. DAN SPEER. STATE TREASURER We print with pleasure the following compliments o Mr. D. N. Speer, our efficient and capable state treasurer:

Monroe Advertiser.

The Cartersville Free Press says the independen 18 will not "put forward" a candidate for state treasurer against Major D. N. Speer, the present treasurer. We suppose the Free Press speaks by authority, as is the organ of Dr. Felton, the leader of the independents. In so doing, that party will show their good sense, for Major Speer is the best treasurer Georgia has ever had, and he could beat any opposing candidate out of his boots.

She remembered how, for the first few years after their marriage, everything went well yith Pericles McGuire, and how, when Daphne was a prattling infant, he had come home full one evening and told her in proud tones that he had reached the summit of his ambition, and was a policeman. All these memories of the past—the bitter and the sweet—came surging through her mind as she looked out through her tears and saw the Blue Island swenue cars going by like ghosts in the twilight.

"Why do you weep, mamma?" said Daphne, placing her soft white West Side arms about the neck of the mother she loved so dearly—the only mother she had.

"I fear me, Bridget," said Mrs. McGuire, using the pet name by which Daphne was known at home, "that our future must indeed be a cheerless "Things may not be so bad as they seem. We have still one hope you know, one resource in case all else fails."

"What is it, child?" asked the mother in hoarse, anxious tones. "What is this hope you speak of?" "Doughnuts," replied Daphne, speaking the word softly, and with infinite tenderness. "We have a jar of them down stairs, you know."

"Then let us tackle them at once," said the grief strickin parent, starting for the pantry at a 2:29 p.m."

THE BROAD WILL.

No New Development, But a Prospect for a Good Story.

The statement of Mr. Thispen published in yesterday's Constitution created no little comment on the streets after the paper had been read. As is usually the case, there were two sides to the question, many persons believing the statement true and the will false, and many believing the statement false and the will true. Early in the day a Constitution repiresentative encountered a rumor setting forth the fact that Mr. Thispen had announced that the statement was untrue, and that he had made it while under the influence of liquor, but a close search failed to sustain this story.

To Judge Calhoun's office a representative of this journal repaired during the day, and asked him: "Have you read Thispen's story?" "Yes," was the reply.

"It does not change my mind. The evidence were sured, me in probating the will, and I yet be were sured.

"What do you think of it?"
"It does not change my mind. The evidence warranted me in probating the will, and I yet believe it 's a good one. Thispen then swore to the genuiness of the will, and although he was subjected to one of the most thorough and searching cross-examinations I have ever heard, he stood the test. A NEW INDUSTRY

The Globe Planter to be Manufactured in Atlanta by a Stock Company.

The Constitution a few days ago published the application for a charter of a new company which will, when organized, give Atlanta one of her most important enterprises. The corporators are to be Messrs J H Porter, J W Meakin, J H McCombe, Sherman Wright, B F Abbott and T M Barna. The name of the company will be the Globe Planter manufacturing company, and the capital stock will be $50,000, with the privilege of increasing it. State School Commissioner Orr received yesterday he following letter:
BALTIMORE, May 22, 1882—State School Commis

Baltimore, May 22, 1882—State School Commissioner, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: A party calling himfelf Noah Madison Mitchell, "president," and representing the Mitchell Centennial Industrial and reformatory school association, has for some years past been collecting various sums of money from different parties here to be applied to the education of the colored race throughout the south. In his last report he mentions among shis moneys paid out $1.500 to Harrison Jones, principal, Decatur, Ga. I will be obliged if you will inform me if there is such a school in Decatur and if such money was paid there and any information you may have in regard to the party and association before mentioned. With regards, I am, very truly.

Dr. Orr says that he knows nothing of Mr. Mitchell and his association. Yesterday a Constitution reporter met Colonei M. A. Candler, of Decatur, and read him a copy of the letter. He said:

"I am president of the board of trustees of the Decatur academy, and I am a member of the county board, but I have never heard of either Mr. Noah Madison Mitchell and his Mitchell centennial industrial and reformatory school association or Mr. Harrison Jones. I can say also that it would hardly be possible for $15 to come into Decatur for educational purposes without my knowing it, much less would I expect $1,500 to come there and be expended in the education of colored people without the matter coming to my ears. The appearances are that Mr. Jones is a myth and Mr. Mitchell is not as much of a philanthropist as he pretends to be."

AN INJUNCTION AGAINST THE CITY

How; the People Living Near the Stockade Propose to Rid Themselves of a Nulsance.

Yesterday information reached the ears of a Constitution reporter that an important injunction suit was about to be instituted in the superior court against the city of Atlanta. A vigorous search was made for the fact, and although the paries interested were exceedingly reticent, the occasion of the coming trouble was gradually ascertained. It seems that the people owning property near the city stockade have decided that their property is damaged and their lives rendered unenjoyable by reason of the fact that the city is making a sort of backyard of ite eighty acres of stockade land. The refuse from the city is dumped near the stockade, and in the opinion of those who reside in the region round about that place, health is endangered and property is damaged thereby, to say nothing of the unpleasant odors arising from the hillside reeking with the dumpings of the scavenger carts. The night soil wagons deposit their loads in a long trench near the stockade, and the fifth is then covered up. As to who will bring the suit no one can yet say, as it has not been definitely settled, but it is certain that about Tuesday in some shape or another a bill of injunction to suits for damages. When news of the intended suit reached the cars of City Attorney Newman, he said:

"I wonder when the people will come to the conclusion that the city is a government trying to work for the good of all. Every man, it seems, wants to sue the city." How, the People Living Near the Stockade Prop to Rid Themselves of a Nulsance.

Plums are here at twenty cents a quart, and dewberries are also in the market at twenty cents. Thus we have dewberry pies and cherry pies, and can try plums between meals. Peaches, too, are here for the wealthy who are able or willing to pay from sixty to seventy-five cents a dozen. There has lately been a flurry in the price of meats. Bulk meats sell at fitteen cents a pound, while hams are 17% to 18 cents. Chickens are from twenty-five to hirty-five on. eents. Chickens are from twenty-five to thirty-five cents for frying size, while hens are from 30 to 35 cents. Eggs are 22½ to 25 cents, and are scarce. In the way of fish there is a very good stock. There are plenty of snappers at from eight to ten cents, and groopers at the same price. There is a plenty full supply of blue fish, black fish and whiting at thirty five cents a string. There are a few tense. thirty-five cents a string. There are a few trout at 12½ cent. The vegetable market is better supplied than it was a week ago and the gardens are in better condition. At the stalls are cabbage at six cents a pound, beans at eight cents a quart. Irish potatoes at fifty cents a peck, and beets, English peas onions, etc, at moderate prices. Altogether the six nation is better than it. ation is better than it was a week ago

CAPITOL NOTES.

There are some fine oats at the department of ag-iculture, raised by Mr. Pat Calhoun. Things are quiet in penitentiary circles.

The belated insurance reports have been coming not the executive office rapidly of late. Judge Henderson has samples of Burt oats sown on the 15th of February from seed distributed by the department and cut on the 27th of May. Commissioner Henderson says that Dallas wheat is not proving a success.

Comptroller General Wright is an ardent admirer of Mr. Stephens.

The Railroad Commis-The Railroad Commission.

Friday during the hearing of the injunction case of the Georgia railroad against the Railroad Commission, at Macon, the complainants filed an answer admitting that the Georgia railroad had been leased by the Central and Louisville and Nashville. This makes Mr. Wadley only an agent of the roads, and in this situation there is no accounting for what may happen, as it is believed that the lease is thereby made null and void.

The Peach grows and Letters.

The peach season is faily opening, with very high prices. Almost all the middle deorgia orchards are sending forward a few crates each day, for which they get from twelve to fifteen dollars a bushel. These peaches retailed at sixty cents a dozen on our stands. The cropholds its fine appearance, and prices will be maintained for several days, as the northern and western markets have as yet been bately touched.

The greatest interest is felt is the matter of transportation, for while the express company can carry all the fruit offered at the present stage of the crop, and shippers at present prices can pay express charges, the bulk of the crop will sook be on and new and cheaper routes will then be needed. We present below the latest information on the subject of fruit handling and transportation:

The rates given by Mr. Brown are less than half of what the current rates heretofore have been. If refrigerator cars could be added to these freight trains and the fast schedule adopted, the whole problem of fruit transportation would be solved. On this point the following are submitted to show that Mr. Brown is earnestly at work in the matter: ATLANTA, GA., May 26—Harles F. Pierce, man ager Tiffany Refrigerator company, 92 Washington, street, Chicago, Ill.: How many refrigerator cars can you furnish per day for the peach business to the west? What rent do you charre? How often necessary to supply with lee? How many days after ordered before they can be here? Will you supply attendant to take charge, and at what rate? Answer quick. (Signed) Jos. M. Brown. CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—Joseph M. Bown: Have only three or four cars that could lease at twenty-five dollars per month for year. Can deliver to road here is three days. Three thousand pounds ice. Will last two to four days, according to temperature of freight loaded. With transportation furnished wil, attend to storing business myself.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 26.—Hunt & Voorbes, New York City: What do you charge per pound to refrigerate fruit on steamers from Norfolk to New York? How much per pound to refrigerate fruit on steamers from Norfolk to New York? How much per pound to refrigerate ordinary cars, furnish ice and attendant, Atlanta to New York? Shipper in all cases paying freight. Answer quick.

Peaches intended for a distant market should be carefully picked when they have attained their growth and color, and before they soften on the tree. This suage can be determined by practical experience alone. It is important that your fruit be matured but not decayed when it reaches its destination. Too much care cannot be exercised in handling your peaches. Touch them as lightly and tenderly as though they were eggs. In fact, as a member of our committee suggests, a blow that would not break an egg, would ruin a peach. ly in the box, for if they loose from shrinkage or careless packing jostling about in transit is sure to ruin them. After the peaches are packed as hear level as possible with the top of the box, a layer of excelsior or some soft packing material should be spread over and the slats firmly pressed down and nailed. Ship your best fruit. Allow wormy decayed specimens to remain on your farm for the hogs. Wrapping each peach with tissue paper on the plan adopted by orange shippers is more of an injury than a benefit as it retards the free circulation of air, an important item while the peach is it transit. In marking your crates or boxes be very certain to mark them on the end. This enables those engaged in handling them to see at a glance the name of the consignee.

In conclusion, do all your work thoroughly, from first to last. If you have had no experience in shipping, it would be well to call on some gentleman engaged in the business and practically inform yourself as to the nice little details that make up the entire business. It is worse than suicidal to To the Citizens of Atlanta and Vielsity.
It having come to our knowledge that certain parties handling an inferior Vapor Stove and trying to palm it off on this community as an improved Hull Vapor Cook Stove, we take this public manner to brand all such reports as falsehoods, whereas the said stove is compact, the said stove is compact, and the said stove is compact, an paratively a new one, having been before the public but a short time, this being the first season the burner has been used, and whoever entire business. It is worse than suicidal to ently work and wait for fruit to grow and ma-, and then, through ignorance or negligence, buys one of them buys an experiment, as an font son of Mr. and Mrs. Park Woodward, aged experience of fifteen years has convinced us that these burners have to be long and thor-oughly tested before they can be pronounced a success.

The Hull Vapor Stove Company never have had to resort to the nefarious practice of selling their stoves on the reputation of some other stove. We stand on our own merits, other stove. We stand on our own merits, and it is all we ask of our competitors.

Furthermore, we inserted an advertisement in two of the daily papers notifying the public of our removal from No. 5 Forsyth street to 27 South Broad street. Under one of our notices was inserted "no removal" from No. 5 Forsyth street. Forsyth street. Now we state emphatically that we have removed, and have no interest whatever at Forsyth street, our old location. Again the Hull Vapor Stove Co. have come here to remain, and expect to establish their headquarters at Atlanta, and handle their goods here, supplying the southern trade, and to be a part of the industry of your growing city; and we say the only and genuine Hull Vapor Stove can only be bought in Atlanta, at 27 South Broad street.

car load after car load of this delicious fruit to high markets in the west. I am satisfied we can do even better with melons and peaches. It must be noticed, in the rate sheet published above, that we will carry, lots of 100 pounds of fruit at 90 cents a hundred to Chicago. It is best and cheapest to ship by car-load, but of course we will take any quantity. I am sure that in a few days I can give just as good rates to the east as we now offer to the west."

WHAT JUGGE HENDERSON SAYS.
Yesterday in reply to a question Judge Hender-on, commissioner of agriculture, said to a Consti-nos reporter:

The thing is to make the meeting of the fruit

"The thing is to make the meeting of the fruit growers, which occurred Thursday, the entering wedge for a more perfect organization of the peach growers. They have already started the organization and I have no doubt in the world that from the success that will crown their efforts this season a great many will be induced to come into it hereafter. It is going to lead to a vast improvement in the quality as well as the quantity of peaches. There is a vast difference in peaches since I was a boy."

What do you think about the shipping question lits solution?"

"The rate now by passenger trains over the Air Line to Washington is $265 by the proposed schedule. The road can carry two cars daily at that. If we can get the road to reduce the amount $50 on each car and make it $215 per car to Washington I expect we will decide upon that mode of shipping."

I have been waiting for you, Rupert." lemona McCaffery was a witching strawberry blonde, with dreamy brown eyes, and a large, vo-luptuous foot that attracted attention wherever the went. Careless and trifling in most things, and little recking whether she had pie or radishes for breakfast, her love for Rupert Hetherington was the one absorbing passion of her life. When he was by her side life was like a beautiful day in June. with the flowers blooming, the bright sunshine gladdening every nook, and the baimy breath of arly summer making sweet perfume of the zephyrs that came softly from the azure blue skies and kissed the warm bosom of the verdure-clad earth-"I am never unhappy when you are with me,dar' g." she said, nestling her head on Rupert's shoul. er, "but when you are away overything is dreary, ad dismal, and forlorn. Did it never occur to you what antagonistic emotions the life of woman is

"It never did," replied Rupert. "I have been too bury this spring trying to figure out whether broquois would win a race."

For an instant there was silence. The lowing of the cattle in the distant meadow and the twittering of the swallows as they circled round the eaves of the house preparatory to turning in for the night ower the only sounds to be heard. Presently Desdemons spoke again.

"But it is so, Rupert," she said. "Flame and ice, poison and perfume, smiles and tears, roses and upax, p:ssion and abnegation—these are what the gods cast into the caldron from which came woman."

"But your sex is fickle, is it not?" said Rupert

"You know the old saying: 'Woman, they name is Flaherty."

Desd mona looked at him steadily a moment. "I presume you refer," she said in cold, better-comen-befor-your-ears-are-frozen tones, "to the line-which reads, 'Frailty, thy name is woman'" "I guess likely." was the reply, "but I really cannot see why women should buck jump around so much."

not see why women should buck jump around so much."

"It is because you do not understand their nature. A woman loves some man with a mad, unressoning love. She is only a girl—a frail, passionate, moody girl, whose heart is a lute for every wind to play upon; who is swayed by love and honor like any reed; who is torn to pieces with the fur; of her own strivings; who follows love forever and forever through the world, only to see it flicker, and beckon, and allure, and fade away like the will o' the wisp; who sees hope grow paler with every levely day that dies on the horizon's purple rim; who in the sleepless midnights looks renunciation in the face with dry eyes; who walks hand-inhand with a sorrew that might so easily wear the stars of joy."—and with a convulsive sob breaking from her lips the girl turned to enter the house.

Rupert stopped her. "You are off your feed, my darling," he said, in the low, musical tones he knew so well how to use when a woman's love was to be won or the unexpected advent of three aces in a jack-pot announced. "You will be better in the fall, sweerheart—the golden-tinted fall, when the leav es are turning brown and the Racine county agricultural association gets out those beautiful, mezzo-tinted posters announcing its annual soirce of live stock."

"Do you really think so, Rupert?" the girl asks, putting her arms around his neck, and looking at him with a wistful, how-do-you-think.you'd feeliff-paps-was-to-heave-in-sight fook.

"Why, of course I do, my angel," he replies, bending over to kiss her once for the cigars.

"And would you do anything in your power to make me happpy?" and again the yearning, anxious, somebody-hold-the dog expression comes into the dusky eyes from which the tears are welling.

"Do so," was Rupert's reply. "Let me prove my love, as the crusaders of old did, by some noble, manly action. I am ready for the test, no matter how tertible it may be;" and his pure young face lighted up with a rapturous, cchuyler Colfax smile.

"Bring what?" asked Rupert. "I do not understand you."

"You will catch on before the summer is over," came the reply, in cicar, incisive tones. "I mean two tickets to the matinee"—and the beautiful girl stepped into the flouse.

With a dull pain at his heart Rupert went away.
"I am o'er young to marry," he said seftly to himself, "and too luxuriantly fly to begin buying matinee tickets in June."—From "Fell at the First Hurdle," by Murat Halstead.

ITS WONDERFUL EFFECTS ON THE LIVER, STOMACH, BOW ELS, KIDNEYS AND BLOOD.

ATLATA, GA. MAY 17TH, 1882. Dr. H. Mozley:—I feel it my duty to you, and the public, to state after ten years of great suffering from that dread disease, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, with great nervous prostration and deblity, caused by billousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, much of the time unable to attend to my business. During the time I used all known remedies and at great expense, exhausted the skill of many of our most eathern physicians and continued to grow worse. I have been cured by four bottles of your Lemon Elixir and am now a well man. I have recommended it to many of my friends suffering with the same class of diseases; it has not falled in any case to give perfect relief. Please refer any one suffering with these diseases to me.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

PERRY DAVIS'

A Never-Failing Cure for Burns, Scalds, Bruises, Cuts, Sores, etc After forty years of trial, PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stands unrivaled. It is safe! It acts immediately! It never fails!

Editor of the St. John (N.B.) News, says:
In flesh wounds, aches, pains, sores, etc.,
It is the most effectual remedy we know of.
No family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour.

W. W. Sharper, Valdosta, Ga., says:
It is a panaeca for all bruises and burns.
From R. W. Adams, Sacd, Me.:
It gave me immediate relief. Prom the Cincinnati Dispatch:
We have seen its magic effects, and know to be a good article.

Prom I. S. Potter, U. S. Consul at Crefeld, Rhenish Prussia:

After long years of use, I am satisfied it is positively efficient as a healing remedy for wounds, bruises, and sprains.

J. W. Dec says:
For scales and burns it has no equal for wounds, bruises, and sprains.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not a new untried remedy. For forty years it has been in conctant use; and those who have used it the longueture its best friends.

Its success is entirely because of its morth. Every family should have a bottle ready for use. Much pain and heavy doctors' bills may often be saved by prompt application of the PAIN KILLER. Unlike most medicines, it is perfectly safe even in the hands of a child. Try it once thoroughly, and it will prove its value. Your druggist has it at 25-c, 50-c, and $1.00 per bottle.

There was a delightful picnic held yester-day at Iceville, given by the young men at Mis. Bell's boarding house, on Peachtree. In Mis. Bell's boarding house, on Peachtree. In all, about seventy-five people were in attendance, and a more pleasant party has not been together this season. The weather was regular picnic weather, and everybody went in for a fine time. Dancing, shooting and other social pleasures were engaged in, the entire company returning on the special train that carried them out, at half-past eight last night. Mrs. Paine, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Venable, Mrs. C. I. Brown, Mrs. Leyden and Mrs. Bell acted as chaperones. The music and refreshments s chaperones. The music and refreshments were unusually fine.

How About the Amateur Actors? EDITORS CONSTITUTION: I noticed in one of our issues sometime back that the Atlanta mateurs were to give us "Richelieu" in first-lass style, but have not heard anything from hem since. What has become of them? I ge by the papers that Savannah and other see by the papers that Savannah and other Georgia cities have organized anateur dramatic clubs, and are giving very creditable performances. As Atlanta has two or three young men of good dramatic ability, would it not be well for the lecture committee of the Young Men's Library association to try and arrange with them for a play at DeGive's for the benefit of the library? If there would be a meeting called of young men interested in the drama, I have no doubt but what we could get a sufficient number as would enable us to Present plays with as much credit as the clubs of our sister cities.

A Little Talk With Dr. Haygood, Dr. A. G. Haygood reached the city Friday tht by the Western and Atlantic railroad at half-past eight. He was on his way from the Nashville conference to his home at Oxford. He spent Friday night in the city with Mr. W. A. Haygood and yesterday merning at half-past eight left for Oxford. A Constitution reporter met him at the Georgia railroad train yesterday morning and asked him if he would not submit to an interview on the causes which led him to reject the bishopric which had been tendered him. He replied:

"I have nothing further to say than what was stated by me in my card. I do not feel that I could give up the work in which I am now engaged and for that reason I declined the office."

Your prefer to devote your energies to Emory college?" "How is the work on the new college buildings progressing?' "In a very satisfactory way, I suppose. I have not been there for a month, but I think that matters are progressing all right. The main building is up and I expect that the entire work will be completed during the vacation."

"How much has Mr. Seney given to Emory college?"
"Seventy-five thousand dollars besides the cost of Seney hall, one of the new buildings now in course of erection." "How much has he given in all to Georgia colleges?"

"He has given to colleges in Georgia two hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars."

THE SMALL-POX. Only One Case Developed Yesterday-Official Report of the Health Board. As will be seen by the report of the board of health, there was only one new case of small-pox yesterday. For sometime now the disease has not averaged one new case a day, and on only one day has the number reached as high as three. In view of the fact that four weeks ago there were ten cases developed in one day, this is a most gratifying showing. The disease is now under such entire control, and such great precaution is taken with every case and those exposed to it, that those who were at first inclined to scare are no longer uneasy, and business has been resumed as usual. Talk of small-pox has almost entirely ceased. It is true that there has hardly ever been a larger crowd on the streets than was out on vesterday. The leading streets were out on yesterday. The leading streets were simply thronged with people, and everything wore its accustomed aspect. It may fairly be said that the scare is over and business has been resumed with its usual activity. In the meantime the vigilance of the health department will not be relaxed. Below is the official report:

nouse from which she was removed is situated on he same block from which Tishy Biram colored, was taken two days ago. Respectfully, WES ARISTRONG, MD, President.

JAMES A BAIRD, MD, Secretary.

On and after to-day, all of the public vaccine offices, both in the wards and at the police station, will be closed, except the office in the city hall park. This office will be open, as usual, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily, and will be in charge of Dr. John H. Logan. Special attention is called to the fact that the office will be open to-day, in order to afford laboring men every facility to be vaccinated. The physicians who have been in charge of the offices will hereafter visit from house to house, so the vaccine corps is not reduced by this change.

A Fine Turnout.

Mr John H. James has taken his three hundred ollars set of harness away from Motes & Co.'s anufactory, on Whitehall street, and is now using the harness with his carriage, recently purchased a cost of $1400. Mr. James's horses and harness de carriage make one of the finest turnouts in the ty, and attract considerable attention. The harness is $\textit{0}$ the very best, manufactured by Motes & b., the well-known manufacturers of hand-made nods. The fact that Mr. James has taken is harness away does not leave them ithout any fine specimens of their work. They are a most extensive stock of all grades of first-mass, strictly has d-made goods, and they make no her. The quality of the goods manufactured by oles & Co. Is too well known to need comment, as firm is recognized as reliable, and the good c known to be unsurpassed anywhere in the hele range of the business. A Fine Turnout.

Pine Violins.

The Estey Organ company have just opened a clivide of instruments just imported by them the most celebrated makers of Europe, including a lot of "Casper de Salo" violins, which ally retail at $100 each, but which they are sell-at $50. Encouraged by the rapid sale of their lest priced violins, they have in the last important the finest assortment of violins for artists everight into this country. The large modeled divarins, Maggini, Paganini, Conservatory and reviolins for solo and orchestra use. The medicized Stradivarius, Amati and other models for the three-quarter and half sizes for children the beautiful unique Russian violin for ladi's Fine Violina.

A Busy Place.

Stepping into Gay's yesterday, we found everybody busy and customers still waiting. Wedging our way through the crowd up to Mr. Gay, who was fitting an elegant suit on a gentleman, we said: "You seem to have the busiest place in Atlanta." I don't know," he said, "how busy others are; I only know that we are leaving about all we can do to-day." "What's fite cause of your rush?" "Well, str," he said, "the reason is obvious: We make a specialty of the best goods, the best workmanship, the best styles and the best fits. The people know these things, and whenever they want to 'ouy elothing they come to see our stock. Now, look at that gentleman there, who has just been fitted up with the suit he has on. That is a fair sample of the goods we keep and the fits we give. I don't think it can be beaten by a suit made to order." I was forced to acknowledge the truth of every word he had said, for I had seen some of the bloods go to a tailor, pay a fancy price, and then not get half as handsome goods and nothing like as good a fit. He then said: "We wish the people to remember that we have made a great reduction in the prices of our clothing, the effect of which you can plainly see in this crowd of customers." We wended our way out, satisfied in our mind that Gay's is the place to buy clothing.

There is no place in the state where families can enjoy health and high living, and spend the summer so comfortably and economically as at Gainesville. It possesses the advantages of good society and churches: the best sulphur and iron springs in the south; visitors have choice of five large hotels, a score of most excellent boarding houses, and any number of cottages. These houses are not conducted on the "European" or yankee plan of "gouge," but the good old Georgia plan of hospitality. Mr John Gardiner, who has recently located up there, will be glad to furnish information to all who may wish to procure accommodations for the summer.

John Keely's Success in Griffin.

Just as we go to press we are shown the following telegram, which explains itself:

GRIFFIN, Ga.—Cap'ain John Keely, Atlanta, Ga.:
To-day's sales, seven hundred and thirteen dollars. Must have three more men. Cannot half wait on the trade.

(Signed)

Hurrah for Keely we said

Hurrah for Keely we say This is just like him, however. He said he was going to sell goods so cheap in Griffin as to make a run such as was unknown there, and he seems to have kept his word. Those who try to run John Keely off the dry goods track had better count the cost before they undertake it. It just simply "can't be done." He knows his business well, and has cash enough to pay for all his purchases on the spot, thus making all the discounts, which he says is about enough profit for him. We congratulate the Captain on the great success of his Griffin enterprise. His Griffin store will prove a boon to the good people of that city. John Keely's Success in Griffin.

JUST BEFORE JUNE,

THE BUZZING OF THE SOCIETY

Decked in the Airy Glory of Summer Costume and Bathed in the Mellow Light of Luna, the Votaries of Fashion Pass in Review.

There are more rumors of marriages to take place than any real events to be chronicled for the past week. May is generally considered the anlucky month for marriages, and June as the specially fortunate time, so there are many rapturous whisperings about, and Ball in Gainesville.

Wednesday night there was a delightful hop at the Fiedmont hotel, Gainesville. An Ibdian band furnished sweet music, and the beautiful ladies and courteous gentlemen present spent several hours most pléasantly.

Marriage Licenses Returned and Recorded for the Week,
Mr J C Jenkins and Miss Susie M Scruggs.
Mr W R Allen and Miss Julia B Patterson,
Mr G T Cunningham and Miss Kate J Wright.

Lyric Club. There will be an an exceptionally fine programme offered by the above club on next Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs James Loyd on Forsyth street.

Concordia Ball. There was a grand ball at the above named hal last Wednesday evening. It was largely attended and quite an enjoyable affair

A young lady on South Forsyth street will s get married.

Some young men on Decatur street seem to be very fond of cooks and beans. Of a Pryor street young lady, her name will soon be written Mrs. in the book of fate. Mr. A, Rosenfeld is on the streets again, after being confined to his room for several days.

A young man in the largest dry goods house on Whitehall street will get married very soon. The members of the Concordia association are speaking of having a moonlight picnic very soon. Two marriages are now certainly booked at West End, the one to take place June 12th, the other June 14th.

Two weddings are booked for June of well known young ladies of West End. The one the 12th and the other the 14th.

The royal wedding cake at the marriage of Prince Leopold was built in three stories, was six feet high and weigned two hundred pounds. "To be or not to be—occupied" soliloquizes the proprietors of many north Georgia summer resort hotels as they inspect empty rooms. The warm weather of the past few days is causi many to make their arrangements for leaving to city for some of the summer resorts.

It is rumored that a well known gentleman and his lady, of this city, are preparing themselves to go on the lyric stage the coming season.

The unhappy society lady of the past two weeks is now satisfied, as the weather is warmer, and new and handsome finery can be exhibited.

A well known Augusta gentleman visits Atlanta frequently, and Lord Bacon says; "A straw will serve to show which way the wind blows." A new wrinkle at dinner parties is to introduce mineral waters in the middle of the meal in place of wine. The idea is said to be to help digestion.

The tramp of numerous feet and the remnants of many a lunch have stolen a good deal of the bloom from various pretty pienic spots around the city.

Ladies who ride in the Peachtree street cars say that the unlighted cigar stump, with its odor of stale smoke is equally as offensive as the burning wood.

There has been quite a number of picules during the week, though the weather has been cool for their doubtful pleasures. It will be sometime in June before the picule season closes. Quite a pretty young lady who resides in the eastern part of the city will marry a Morgan county farmer in July. Corydon and Phillis; the neat cottage and the sweet corn bread.

At the library entertainment in Albany, Monday night, Mr. J. W. Thompson, kindly took part and received flattering applause upon his rendition of "Grand Old Ocean;" and "Larboard Watch." Colonel J. W. Houston, of this city, has purchased the Kelly place near where the Georgia Pacific crosses Sweetwater creek, and will build a fine ho-

There is but little doing in society this week.
May is considered an unlucky month to tie a nuptial knot in, so the courts of Venus are deserted, the altar of Cupid is bare of sacrifice and the torch of hymen is dim.

of hymen is dim.

At the Catholic picnic given last Thursday at Vining station, the chief delight of everybody present seemed to be caused by the agreeable presence among them of the Sunday school patriarch, Mr. William Dowling.

Although not exactly such a "boundless contig-ulty of shade" as Cowper sighed for, the city hall park is the most available approach test we have. The elevated situation and the cool shade renders it an attractive spot.

A young gentleman of this city, writes from Tallulan Falls, and says it is delightful up there to hear the tinkling cattle bells and the meditative good night song of birds, that the days are beautiful and the nights sweet and calm.

An Atlanta gentleman

An Atlanta gentleman was present at the grand ball at the Central hotel in Charlotte on the even-ing of the 20th. He says that it was a most brilliant affair, and that at it the beauty and grace of various southern states was represented.

affair, and that at it the beauty and grace of various southern states was represented.

Tis said that a young gentleman of Athens, has gained the consent of a well known young lady of this city, to become a resident of Athens at an early day. Perhaps, 'tis fair, as a prominent gentleman of Atlanta prevailed upon a sister of the Athenian, to make Atlanta her home.

Cupid enters the hovel as well as the palace, and the old and the young are alike subject to his spell. Mr Abraham Mincy, aged 75, and Miss T Dugger, a young lady of '8, were married in cavannah on the 23d. The groom was a resident of Bulloch county, and the bride a resident of Savannah.

The beautiful winged son of Mercury and Venus, with his bow and quiver, finds as genial employment in a log but as in the mansion of elegance and wealth. It is rumored that a rather prominent widower of Atlanta will marry quite a pretty, but lowly young lady of a neighboring county.

A large number of young gentlemen have con-

A large number of young gentlemen have con-nected themselves with the Young Men's library recently. In fact pretty much all of the young men of the city who desire to have their minds en-lightened, their understandings enlarged, their tastes refined and their moral sense improved, are uniting themselves with the association.

uniting themselves with the association.

Happy is the man who has asparagus this season. A gentleman of this city who resides near the corner of Collins and Gilmer streets has as fine as one could desire. But he does not know how to eat it. If a gournet of simple taste, cold, with oil, would do. But asparagus salad is better. After boiling place it on ice and serve it as cold as possible, with Mayounarse sauce. The asparagus omelet is likewise to be respected.

WHY PINPERNELL PALED.

BY ROSCOE CONKING. Her eyes shone with a lustrous light as looking up into Pinpernell's face, she softly whispered; "I'm so delighted!" "At what love?"

"That I have such a dear, fond old bear of a hubby. Why, you always could fold me up in your arms so much nicer than my other beaux that I was always glad when your evening came. But, my goodness, what makes you look so pale?" "Ahem! I'm just thinking how-much like leather our lips felt after I had passed an evening with

"That's just like all you good-for-nothing men," exclaimed the irate wife, "always deceiving us poor deluded women. And that naughty Nell Jones!" The rest of the walk was very meditative.

The English Widow's Second Year.

The English Widow's Second Year.

From the London Life.

Dressed in the deepest and blackest of crape, in the richest of silks and the most coquetilsh of widows' caps, the bereaved one finds that her lost husband has made but little difference in the routine of her daily life. Probably the principal change she feels from his loss is one in her income, and men have ere now been known designedly to curtail the finances in such instances in order to ensure that they should at least be missed in some degree. But if the fashionable widow is easy in purse, she is rarely sad at heart. She knows that she is, for the time at least, a prominent point and an object of attention in her own circle. She is aware that her cap becomes her, and that she looks younger in her weeds than she had looked for several years before. She is not long before she looks round her for some diversion from the strict retirement that her world is supposed to enforce upon widows. It is, in reality, far from strict. She can go abroad with a few chosen spirits, and who that sees her laugh and chatter, filtrand amuse kerself, as she does, could imagine that she is a widow of but a few weeks' standing?

From the New York Sun.

A young, rich and pretty widow in London, with plenty of animal spirits, and in want of some incoent amusement, hit on the original plan of inscribing her name in the books of a matrimonial agency as a wealthy but blind candidate for matrimony. The number of suitors was legion, and the charming widow amused herself to her heart's content. Some came in shabby clothes, some stretched themselves quite at home, but spoke in tones of the deepest affection. The charming widow was, browever, soon obliged to cut the joke short, for one of her suitors, after annexing a pair of candlesticks, and is reported quite sick.

formed into a mantle by her dressmaker. The transformed into a mantle by her dressmaker. The wearing of a shaw! is a great test of a woman's grace and carriage. No one, however, will be rash enough to assert that the clumey garments made out of India shawls and now so frequently seen are a better evidence of her taste or of an improved sense of form. The only results attained are the spoiling of the peculiar beauty of design and coloring in the shawl, thrust into unwilling folds by the dressmaker, and a remarkable ugliness of outline.

From the Boston Transcript.

The esthetic olive-green paint now so common was not an invention of Oscar Wilde, but was used by an old citizen of Boston, Mr. John D. Just now the country is most glorious. You city people ought to shut up your doors and come out and see the smiling land, and luxuriate in beauty and innocence and peace. A sure and beautiful harvest is in sight every where and the farmers are about to be redeemed. Nature is in her teens just nowa blushing maiden wearing, pantalets and preparing to bang her flaxen hair. How's that for high? If I was a poet I would sit in my piazer this lonely evening and breath a poem or on ode or an idle or a pastoral song and say

How sweet the sunlight rests upon the land The woods are happy in their summer clothes The waving grain by gentle breezes fanned Gives token of good picking for the crows. The fields are proud and "feeling of their oats" Or boast of being "just as good as wheat" The jay bird sings his adamantine notes

And kine with swelling fat stick out a feet. Jesso. I feel the poetic inspiration all Jesso. I feel the poetic inspiration all aboard, but somehow my rhymes have to be powerfully strained. This I suppose is the fault of our language, though possibly it may be mine for there are a power of folks who swell up and gush, but are not poets. Maybe that blank verse is my forte in the spring of the year, for they say it is a higher type of rapshody and is more esthetic. Blank verse don't lingle like a jewsharp, but it elevates a rapshody and is more esthetic. Blank verse don't jingle like a jewsharp, but it elevates a man to more etherial regions. Blank verse has no long beter, or short meter, or 8s, 7s and 4s, but just meters all along the line, whether its long or short, like the quire sings in the Episcopal church, and can trot, or pace, or callon through a sentence and make the or gallop through a sentence and make the tune to fit it, meter or no meter. Still I don't think old people ought to try to write poetry, for they can't get up sufficient gush. Age knocks the poetry out of a man just like marriage knocks the music and romance out of a woman. She quits playin' the piano in about two years and takes to the sewing manapout two about two years and takes to the sewing machine. She quits singing and goes to cluckin' and scratchin around. I don't like that. It always makes me sad to see an anxious, careworn mother, and it would seem like enough to scare off her own gir's from marryin', but somehow it don't. The longer a man can keep up his boyish feelings and hilarity and play hoss with his little boys, and the longer a woman can laugh and frolic and picnic and romp with her children the better for'em. When Mrs. Arp condescends to put on her long-eared sunbonnet and go with me and the children to the dewberry patch I am happy, ticks or no ticks. That's an event, that is. Dewberries are ripe now, and we eat 'em with sugar and shore enough cream and make pies out of 'em, and if sugar was cheap or easy to get, we would all be happy. No about two years and takes to the sewing ma get, we would all be happy. No family of size and appetite like mine ought to go through the berry season without a barrel—for there are blackberries and huckleberries and rasberries and cherries for tarts, and peaches and apples for dumplings and everything for jelly and preserves and a dollars worth of sugar at a time is just an ag-dollars worth of sugar at a time is just an ag-gravation. Mrs. Arp said yesterday she had "rather be stinted in anything than sugar"— "and coffee"—said I. "Well, yes," said she, "I can't do without coffee"—and plenty of butter," said I. "Yes, and butter," said she, "and good flour," said I, "and lard and nice clothes and number 2 shoes, and so on and so forth and so on all of which ends in want. forth and so on, all of which ends in wanting plenty of money. Jesso.

The clover is blooming high this year and looks too lovely to cut down, but such is life and the end of all things. Time cuts down all fime cuts down all Both great and small.

Old father Time used to go about in summer clothes with nothing on but his bones and a scythe blade in his hand, but now we can cut down ten acres to his one with a buckeye reaper. They ought to get up a new picture with the old feller sitting up on a machine and driving a pair of Kentucky mules in a wheat field at barvest time. There are a heap of the good old primmer and spelling book pictures going out of date. Nobody ever uses an hour glass now. Nobody ever sees an old-fashioned bee hive with a round to not made of the mediant transfer. top and made of straw. The old farming pic-tures look curious to this generation—the humpbacked man cutting his wheat with a crooked sickle, holding a bunch in one hand and cutting it with the other. And there was two men a plowing—one was driving the steers and the other holding the plow, and that's where Ben Franklin got his maxim—

"He that by the plow would thrive Himself must either hold or drive."
But now one man will sit upon a cultivator or a pulverizer and do ten times the work in a day. I dont see how them old time fellers did make a living, for with all our improvements it is nip and tuck to get along and keep even. But some of those old spellin book ments it is nip and tuck to get along and keep even. But some of those old spellin book pictures stick fast and dont degenerate a bit. That rade boy still climbs the apple tree, old dog Tray still gets into bad company, the bull gores the ox and the milk maid has vain expectations and turns over the bucket just like they did in the olden time. We can mend up our machinery and invent new ones but our old habits and traits of character remain about the same. I dont know that our people are any happier than they were 4,000 years ago and the same old truth prevails. Man that is born of a womans and there are noother sort that I know of, is of few days and full of trouble.

BILL ARP.

The Southern Mutual Insurance Company and Its From the Banner-Watchman.

The Southern Mutual Insurance Company and Its From the Banner-Watchman.

To the Editors of the Banner-Watchman.—Gentlemen: In your paper of the 18th instant was published an interview with one of the officers of the Southern Mutual Insurance company, and some accompanying remarks, which are calculated to give such erroneous impressions as to the litigation now pending in connection with that company that we feel called upon, as attorneys representing numerous policy hodders, both present and past, to state somewhat more fully the facts of the case than your informant gave them, so that parties in interest may form their own opinious, instead of accepting blindly those of any other person.

This is a purely mutual company. It has no stock in the usual acceptation of the term; those who insure in it become stockholders thereby, and in the very nature of a mutual company, every insurer has an interest in the assets he contributes to create. The net assets, have not, however, been fully distributed to these stockholders or policyholders each year, but a portion of them has been for a number of years reserved to build up a surplus fund, until it amounts to more than a million dollars. This fund, the directors say in their bill, is large enough and in danger of becoming too large. We agree fully with this, and before a courl and jury will endeavor to show that, under the charter, it should be distributed; that if it can be kept together at all, it is much larger than is necessary, or than is authorized by 'law. On behalf of parties who claim an interest therein, we have applied to the court to cause a division, into the whole, at least of the excess over what we believe to be the lawful limit of the fund. Had the officer with whom you conversed, read the company's own bill, before being interviewed, or the cross bills filed by us, he would have discovered that not only is the surplus fund in litigation, but it is the very essence of the litigation. The very first prayer in the bill filed by the company may be constru

THE GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

AS SEEN BY POET BILL ARP.

We contend that one who insured, say in 1870, and then retired, has any interest in the surplus laid up in 1880, but if he contributed to make up a surplus in the year 1870, we contend that he certainly ought to have some interest in the surplus of that year. Again, if one has been insuring consecutively for ten years and has paid in annually $100, is he not entitled to more than a policy holder who has just insured the last year, and paid only $100? We think he is. And if he should allow a lapse of ever so short a time without a policy, is he to lose the benefit of all he has ever previously paid in? We say not.

in a word, our position is that the surplus of each year belongs to the insurers of that year prorata, according to dividends paid by each.

As to the difficulties of arriving at a distribution and the fact mattach man's share will be small, (if it be a fact) we need only say that one of the chief objects of having a court of equity at all, is to handle such estates and distributions by machinery adapted to the purpose; and further, the fact that one's rights may not be large would seem to be no reason why he should give them up altogether. If there be but a dollar which is rightfully ours, we want i: if there be a dollar which is rightfully ours, we want i: if there be a dollar which is ure neighbor's, and not ours, we want him to have it; and we are confident that all right thinking people will agree with us. Your informant states that there is of course n need for anybody to take any steps in the matter. In this connection we would state one or two facts.

When the bill was filed, ten gentlemen, six in Georgia and four elsewhere, were selected by the company to represent everybody in interest, and were served with the bill. Of course it could not be expected that these gentlemen were going to voluntarily assume the task of representing hundreds of people in whom they had no personal interest, without remuneration, or without even being asked so to do. Very naturally, none of them had appeared, or answered up to the time of our employment, and the solitary answer which we found was made by other parties, who, like our clients, came into the litigation voluntarily, and who asked a decree diametrically opposite to that for which our clients contend.

When our views are so widely different from those expressed in the interview published, we respectfully submit that there is the best possible reason for taking steps, and at once.

In conclusion, permit us to say that we have not made, nor do we expect to make any attack on the able and excellent gentlemen who are now the officers of the company, and who in their bill, admit themselves to be at a loss as to who is interested in said fund, and ask instructions, etc.

We simply represent a numerous and respectable clientage, the members of which insist that they are interested.

There is nothing verging upon an attack on any one. There is nothing verging upon an attack on any one. eed for anybody to take any steps in the matter. In this connection we would state one or two Interested.

There is nothing verging upon an attack on any one. There is, however, no certainty how long the present board will continue in office. Suppose their successors were less houset. With a rule established by the courts that policy holders at the time a division might be declared, should take the entire fund, what would be easier than to narrow the number of insurers, until, in due time, a pocketining dividend could be declared? What security has any policy holder, present or past, that he will not be left out?

After having been troubled for seven months with Scrofula in the form of ulcers covering nearly the entire surface of both legs, and having tried the usual remedies with no relief, I resorted to SS S, and am now glad to say that six bottles taken in about two months has effectually cured me.

I have suffered from Scrofula 17 years. The disease being mostly confined to my le's and ankles, my shin bones were covered with large Ulcers and one mass of rotten fiesh, and the odor almost unbearable. All remedies and treatments failed. At last I began taking S S S, continuing for about four months under the supervision of a physician. Previously to taking S S I at times could scarcely walk about. Now I can walk all day, and I have to thank S. S. S. and it only for my cure.
